

Our home is about 40 years old. We built a fire at the beginning of the cool season and several rooms experienced smoke with the strong order lasting several days.

A fireplace supply store recommended we contact Robert Berry. He had the training and equipment to show us the broken tiles and mortar up in the chimney and that the fireplace was not safe to use.

He knocked out the old tiles and replaced them with a stainless steel liner.

Throughout the whole process, he was most considerate by keeping the mess confined and covering the floor from the fireplace to the door.

He finished the job in a timely fashion and was most courteous and respectful – a true professional!

We have enjoyed our safe fireplace as well as the peace of mind knowing that it is safe.
